PERSONAL STATEMENT

As a child, I was always enamored with all types of art whether it be through the books I was reading, the movies I was watching, or the music I was listening to. Art has always felt like home to me, even if I might have lost the keys from time to time. Everyday, I try to keep the same spirit and whimsy that I had when I was little. I strive to be the person my six year old self would want me to be, staying true to myself and freely loving what I love. So far, I have kept my inner child close to my heart and it always manages to bleed through into my artwork.

Hi, my name is Abby Miller, and I am majoring in Graphic Design and minoring in Illustration at the University of Akron. I am a very dedicated and serious person when it comes to meeting deadlines and putting out the best possible work for any given situation. I strive to think outside the box in everything I do. I am a strong-willed and prolific worker. I often work with a range of materials to create art from traditional materials such as watercolor and ink to the Adobe Suite and digital illustration programs. Combining the two disciplines of Graphic Design and Illustration into one project is something I always love to do.

As a child, I was always enamored with all types of art whether it be through the books I was reading, the movies I was watching, or the music I was listening to. For the longest time I thought I was going to be a STEM major but one day, I signed up for a Graphic Design class in high school and I felt like it was something that would be fulfilling. My main goal in my career is to make great designs, meet wonderful people, and enjoy the journey! I ultimately want to be a children's book illustrator somewhere down the road. One fun fact about me is that I love all things dinosaur, Star Wars, and Lord of the Rings related!
